

This map shows the locations of the hazard zones announced by North Korea before its April 4, 2009 Unha-2 launch, and the approximate splashdown points of the first two stages and shroud of the launcher.

(source: David Wright, Union of Concerned Scientists, drawn in Google Earth)